Come on, now, you want a good game?
Come here and let me tell you and you'll never be the same!

He has hair like Lucas and a YoYo like Ness,
He traverses islands and caves just like all the rest.
He uses a slingshot like Animal Crossing and Link,
If that doesn't make you wanna play...well, come on, just think.

It's as hard as Kid icarus, if not harder, but hey-
Enough with comparisons, come on and let's play!

Before Mike Jones was a rapper, we had this NES gem!
Oh how forgotten, will it get enough attention? God knows when!

This has to be the most difficult game I've ever played
But it's not so much frustrating as it makes me want more, and hey
When I finally get through, it's such a satisfying thing,
And then, guess what, do it all over again!

Before Mike Jones was a rapper, we had this NES gem!
Oh how forgotten, will it get enough attention? God knows when!

So what is the story, you'll probably ask:
Well, let's take a look.
There's a pitcher from Washington and his name is Mike,
His uncle Dr. Jones invited him to these islands,
But it seems he's been kidnapped so now Mike is looking for him
What happens in the end? You'll have to play to find out!

Before Mike Jones was a rapper, we had this NES gem!
Oh how forgotten, will it get enough attention? God knows when!

Oh, and don't forget, the most puzzling of questions:

Did you dip your uncle's letter in the water?
